

save the date

BREAKING NEWS

Family Education Summer Conference to be held in New York City

This conference is sponsored by:

*The Consortium for Future of the Jewish Family,
The Central Agencies for Jewish Education in NY - BJE and SAJES,
The Experiment in Congregational Education (ECE) and
The Leadership Institute for Congregational School Educators (LICSE) of the Schools of Education of HUC-JIR and JTS in New York*

August 3rd-5th, 2009

Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion
One West 4th Street, NYC (In the heart of Greenwich Village)

How Do Congregations Accompany Families on their Jewish Journeys?

- Spend three days with Family Education experts from the Consortium for the Future of the Jewish Family.
- Learn with content specialists in the areas of: Spirituality and Ritual, Torah Learning, Service Learning and Jewish Peoplehood.
- Join with other individuals and teams from innovating congregations.
- Design outcomes and activities aligned to your congregation's vision for meaningful family learning and engagement.

CONFERENCE FEES:

$350 per individual; $650 for a two-person congregational team;
$900 for a three-person congregational team

Cost includes tuition, breakfast and lunch, and an additional dinner and program on one evening. Travel and hotel not included.

APPLICATIONS WILL BE AVAILABLE AT:

www.sajes.org

For more information contact conference@sajes.org

This conference made possible with major support from the Gladys K. Crown Foundation, St. Louis, the Kripke Institute for Jewish Family Literacy, and the Whizin Foundation

save the date